Jim Rice: Given we have few people on this call, I recommend we reschedule this call, and to encourage people that if they will be on the team that they join us and participate.

Pete Jahn: We are short of a quorum.

Andy Burch: I would agree. The sharing of information gets tricky if we do not have much of the group here.

Eric Howland: I am ok with rescheduling. I missed the first few meetings and would appreciate a chance to have a brief conversation about what I read in the minutes and about the proposals on the table.

Randy Roecker: I feel the same. We cannot get much done with only a few people on.

Pete Jahn: I will be glad to discuss this with Eric. We will officially terminate the call. Others are welcome to stay on. We will send out a new Doodle.com invitation to reschedule this.
